RUM WINS ON 5-MILE FRONT.

Ohio River Frozen and Whiskey Is Smuggled to West Virginia on Skates. WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Prohimuch trouble in dealing with persons at once. It is harmless who bring liquor from the Ohlo side, due to the fact that the "bone dry" violators are ütilizing the frozen Ohio River as a means of entrance to West Virginia instead of trolley cars and the bridges. Heretofore the officers have successfully nforced the law by keeping sharp lookouts on the two bridges here.

But when the Ohio froze solid on a five-mile front they found it difficult to watch so wide an entrance of territory, with the result that the liquor carriers are reported to be crossing the ice in ever-increasing numbers.
